

VIDEOMETRY CASE STUDY

WITH

My client loves the Videometry, and has since ordered more 4-5 times. They love that the video inside tells a story that printed material can't, and that the name personalization made people feel special and obligated to pay closer attention. My client received phenomenal feedback and appreciated the quick turnaround and personalized service Origaudio offers."

Pulse Team Wear

OVERVIEW

Pulse Team Wear specializes in custom-made team apparel at competitive price points. The family-owned distributor offers a diverse line of products, backed by stellar customer service and first-class graphic design.

STRATEGY

John presented the Videometry to his client and they immediately knew it was perfect for their upcoming capital campaign! Each brochure was given out at meetings and presentations, personalized with the donor's name. Inside the Videometry, Mater Dei included a stunning video of their brand new multi-million dollar performing arts center. It was the perfect high-end item for their highly visual campaign.
